1.  a searchlight, mounted at the edge of a thicket, about 200 meters from the banks of the Swine river (as shown on attached sketch).
2. The mirror of the searchlight measures approximately two meters in diameter. It was not possible to ascertain the type of mounting as it was hidden behind bushes, and the level from the ground could only be assumed to be approximately one and one half meters above the ground.
3. A rectangular case was immediately behind the searchlight.
4. A small wooden hut similar to a sentry box was near the searchlight. A telephone cable lead into it. No one was seen near the searchlight position.
